Old and New.

The reunion of the 27th Maine will be held at Old Orchard, in August.

Ingersoll lives at Long Branch this summer.

A tramp died in the Pittsburg, Pa., poor house who had $21,000 concealed about his person.

A temperance campmeeting will be held at Lake Maranocook Saturday and Sunday, July 29th and 30th; also at Sebago Lake Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 5th and 6th.

Loring, Short & Harman, wholesale and retail booksellers and stationers, Portland, have removed to the new store in Lancaster Building, No. 474 Congress street, opposite the Preble House.

The Chinese, it is said, have long been in the habit of printing "sleeve editions" of the classics to assist candidates at the competitive examinations whose memories are not sufficiently retentive.

The directors of the 17th Maine Regiment Association are arranging for the annual reunion, which occurs on the 18th of August, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance of the veterans of the organization.

The citizens of Fryeburg will have a grand picnic on the Martha Grove campmeeting grounds Saturday, July 22, it being the occasion of the anniversary of the Fryeburg Temperance Association. Hon. Sidney Perham will be present.

The winter wheat crop of Illinois seldom, if ever, promised a more abundant yield, and the quality is excellent. The crop has been harvested in the Southern and most of the Central counties, and new wheat is being marketed as fast as it can be thrashed.

After "Home, Sweet Home," probably no song has had more world-wide popularity than "Kathleen Eavournee," sung wherever English is spoken. The author, F. N. Crouch, now in his old age, is reduced to extreme poverty, and a public subscription for his benefit has just been started in Portland.

The Emperor of China has an easy way of paying his debts. During the troubles in Kweichow the people advanced about $9,150,000. The Government now pleads poverty, but offers to cancel the debt by adding eight persons to each of the civil and military examinations for Master of Arts for the province, which occurs once in three years.

The Temperance Camp Meeting will be held at Lake Maranocook, Saturday and Sunday, July 29th and 30th. Saturday, (Childrens Day) there will be an exhibition drill of the "Deering Zouaves," a boy military company with their boy drummer. The command is under the lead of Capt. Willie Spiller, and is fully officered. They average about nine years, and in their gay Zouave costumes are a sight worth seeing.

In Dakota, never have the prospects of a bountiful harvest been better than at present. From Minnesota, reports as to wheat are uniformly favorable, and corn shows remarkable improvement. In Kansas the crops promise to be the finest ever harvested. The State Board of Agriculture estimates the wheat crop at 30,000,000 bushels, or an average of twenty bushels to the acre. Corn is growing rapidly, and promises a gratifying yield.

The graduation season through which we have just passed has revealed, as usual, the peculiarities of parents in the matter of burdening their children with a string of names equal to a series in a geometrical progression. Many of the middle names saddled upon their innocent offspring have been carefully concealed by their owners until the approach of graduation day, when they are wrung from their unfortunate possessors almost by threats and ruthlessly paraded before the public gaze on college and high school programmes, where stand out in all their dreadful entirety such prae, ad and cognomens as Martha Calpurnia Eliza Smith, John Hopkins Paris Green, James Holofernes Barnabas Sears, Xenophon Demosthenes Brown, and Robert Van Rensselaer Jeremiah Brown Jenks. There is another side to this question, when romantic and sentimental school girls persist in affirming that they have been christened with such senseless names as "Daisy," "Pussy," "Birdie," "Dovie," and "Mittie," and who refuse to be comforted when they find these namby-pamby diminutives changed on the graduation programme to sensible Maria, Sarah, Abby or Melibah.

South Waterford.

Mr. Orris Haskell met with a shocking accident last Monday. He went into Mr. Proctor's saw mill, on business and in attempting to assist in removing some timber his foot slipped and was taken by the board saw and completely mangled. Only a year ago Mr. Haskell lost his right hand on a saw. How much do we pity him boys?

"Honor to him, to whom honor is due." For the benefit of some of the participants in our 4th celebration, we will say, the entertainment was the production of the S. W. Band and that splendid coffee and delicious ice cream came through the hands of Mr. Saml. Hicks (better known as "Uncle Sam.")

The "Veteran Caterer," no man can cater like "Uncle Sam." "Delmonico" is boss on fancy but when "Uncle Sam" puts in his substantial, you are sure "not to get left."

The charming and soul stirring music of the moving machine is to be heard on all sides.

Talk about nice gardens, lets look at Engene Nelson's. Sweet corn, 5 feet high; beets large as a silver dollar; carrots, onions, etc., in the same proportion. 3 rows of bean poles, 40 poles each. They are set so exactly true, by sighting down the row only one (the first) pole can be seen. Mr. Nelson probably has the best 4 acre piece of our native corn there is in this county, the same care being exercised in planting as in setting the poles, just 4 feet apart and in true straight lines, in every direction. Can be cultivated crosswise as easily as in regular rows. Mr. Nelson prepared this ground very nicely, for sake of experiment. He uses three different kinds of fertilizers, and different manures, in different ways. The corn stands very uniformly 3 to 4 feet high. If some of our readers think this "Jambo," Mr. Nelson will take pleasure in showing them around.

Mrs. E. W. Ayer, one day last week, besides doing the work for six in the family, wove 14 yards "hit or miss" carpeting. It was woven not thrown together.

Mr. Will Haynes will take charge of the Waterford House stable this season. Will will furnish good teams or take good care of the stranger.

In the afternoon John got his dicky off and got on a pair of overalls, Watson & Knight made it warm for him, saving shovel handles.

Mr. Frank Hall has commenced to remodel the old Monroe Tannery into a carriage factory.

Mr. Wm. Brown, after spending a few days with his friends, has returned to his Nebraska home.

We received this week a flying visit from Mr. Orrin Holden and wife of Cambridge Mass., a former resident of Norway. Mr. Holden is doing a thriving business in the manufacture of piano keys. He employs eight men.

Mrs. Thodor Frost of Bridgton was attacked last Sunday, by a swarm of savage bees and was stung so badly about her limbs, head and neck that her life was despaired of for a few days. She was stung in more than a thousand places. Two hundred stings were taken from her face alone. The bees were prevailed to let go only by submerging the lady in a tub of cold water and pumping water upon her.

Get in your biggest trout line soon for we are going to trouble the water this week, then look out.

Waterford.

In general we are a quiet neighborhood, not much given to publicity, but not wishing to be outdone by our "city" cousins we ask permission to insert a few general items in your paper. To the summer tourist, searching for a pleasant and retired spot in which to spend a few weeks, few places offer greater attractions than the "Flat." Reoka Lake stretching its broad expanse of placid water toward the south, Mt. Tiram rearing its lofty summit majestically toward the sky and the little village nestling among the grand old elms at its foot, are the chief points in a picture upon which the fastidious connoisseur of art will look, with a feeling of newly-found enjoyment. The facilities for fishing, riding, boating, picnicing etc., are numerous.

Arrivals at F. M. Atherton's: Mrs. Bishop and three children; Miss Susan Wilkins; Miss Mary Martin and Master Fred Davidson; all of Brooklyn N. Y.

At Daniel Brown's, Mrs. Rounds and two children. A large number of guests are expected soon.

The village school has been under the charge of Miss Agnes Baker. Miss B. is a graduate of the Norway High School and her previous success as a teacher renders further comments unnecessary. We understand that there will be a fall term.

Miss Fannie Appleby is away on a brief visit to friends in Eastport.

Dr. Will Haskell, dentist of Bridgton, has made several professional visits to this town lately.

Mrs. Caroline Brown, the mother of Artemus Ward, is finally recovering from the effects of a fall which she received some weeks since.

The "Glorious Fourth" was appropriately observed by a picnic in Hapgood's grove, and a hop at Mason's Hall in the evening. It was pronounced by all a "good time."

The boating season on Reoka Lake is much enjoyed by all. Capt. Appleby's fine sail boat has been purchased by parties in North Conway, but will not be removed until the close of the summer. The "Agnes" presents a decidedly "nobby" appearance in her frequent trips under the skillful management of Messrs. Baker and Little.

The many friends of the ADVERTISER will be glad to witness its resurrection. May you meet with success in making it an interesting local paper.

GLEN.

North Waterford.

Mrs. Estes died last Tuesday. Her age was 90 years and 5 months.

Mr. Peter Mosher fell from a load of hay last Wednesday severely injuring his back. He is improving quite rapidly and his friends hope to see him about soon.

Haying has begun in some quarters and the click of the moving machine is heard.

The foundation for the new spool mill is laid. Parties from Portland are to frame the building. Messrs. Proctor and Hobson of this place have taken the contract to board, clapboard and shingle it.

Mrs. Elliott, mother of H. P. Elliott, is here on a visit to her son.

A change of ownership in the stage line between here and Norway is hinted at on the street.

Sweden.

The widow of the late James H. Holden is in feeble health, although more comfortable just now than she has been before for some months.

The only son of Wm. H. Kneeland, 2d, has been ailing for nearly two years. His malady in all probability is disease of the heart.

C. O. Brown, after trying his best to save his colt, became satisfied last Sunday that further effort in that direction was useless, and put him out of misery by knocking him in the head. A careful examination of the knee proved the wisdom of the act, for it was so badly injured that from the first there was no possible chance to save it.

Our schools this summer have thus far been very successful, and as they are under the care of able and experienced teachers, we feel confident in saying they will be very profitable.

A valley road from Sweden center to Bridgton village is under consideration. Said road as contemplated will be over a very level route, there being only one rise worth mentioning in a distance of nearly eight miles, and that not worthy to be called a hill. The part of the road on this route which must be entirely new cannot be more than three miles in length, and for the most part easy to make, the ground being very smooth for forest land.

Andover.

The scholars of Dist. No. 4 celebrated the Fourth with a social picnic, which, thanks to their teacher, passed off with the success which usually accompanies the entertainments of this school. In connection with the scholars about 200 parents and friends congregated, at an early hour. At 10 a. m. the scholars headed by Master Arthur Meserve, who carried the flag, marched from the school house to the grove, where they separated into groups to amuse themselves until the coming of dinner, which was in due time announced. The tables were abundantly loaded and owing to the liberality of the young men, lemonade was served, "free to all;" after the dinner, the people were entertained with music, reading, etc. The order of exercises was as follows:

- 1st. Singing, "Miss Elsie Akers presiding at the organ."
- 2d. Reading of the Declaration of Independence, by Miss Sadie Akers.
- 3d. Declaration, "Daddy's Good Times," by Master Eben Andrews.
- 4th. Singing.
- 5th. Declaration, "Will They Miss Us When We Go," by Miss Katie Abbott.
- 6th. Solers. Reading, "Life's Openings," by Miss Josie Campbell.
- 7th. Music, by Lucien Akers.
- 8th. Recitation, "Little Bird," by Miss Jessie Barrett.
- 9th. Recitation, "Why Did They Kill My Baby?" by Miss Mattie Newton.
- 10th. Singing.
- 11th. Declaration, "What Jack Found in His Stocking," by Sammie Marston.
- 12th. Recitation, "What I Love For," by Miss Alice Campbell.
- 13th. Singing.
- 14th. Declaration, "Receipt for a Racket," by Arthur Meserve.
- 15th. Recitation, "Immortality," Miss Georgia Akers.
- 16th. Recitation, "Pity Them," by Gladie Marston.

The exercises were conducted by Mr. Edward Hutchins, Marshal of the day. The excellence in reading and speaking and the perfection of order throughout the day, rendered this the most enjoyable entertainment ever held in this grove.

The Fourth was celebrated by a school picnic in Dist. No. 4, and a general picnic at the village. Interesting literary exercises added to the entertainment in both places. At the village an eloquent oration was delivered by Rev. C. S. Cummings.

A Fourth of July ball was given at Union Hall in the evening.

Miss Hannah R. Farrington is home for a few weeks.

S. M. Merrill & Sons are enlarging their house.

The Andover Band played at Upton the 4th.

Mr. C. W. Haverlyson and wife of New York, have been visiting friends here.

Mrs. Eliza Poor and niece have moved into the Merrill house.

F. S. Smith recently sold his trotting mare, Princess, to Mass. parties for $500.

Summer visitors are arriving.

A successful strawberry festival was held at Union Hall Tuesday night. It was conducted by the ladies of the Methodist society.

Bolster's Mills.

Willis Lowell, who has been at work in Mass., is at home on a visit.

Rosie Chute, a graduate of Bridgton High School, has been at Gorham Normal School, during the summer. She returned to her home last week.

Several schools in Otisfield closed this week. The school on "Otisfield Hill" taught by Miss Blanche Stuart closed on Friday July 7th.

Ella M. Lovewell closes her school on the "Grove" on Friday of this week; and Lizzie M. Green closes her school in the "Swamp District" on the same day.

Most of the farmers in this vicinity commenced haying this week. Many of them are not done hoeing yet, and both branches of business will have to be carried on together.

The crops of all kinds are growing finely and the prospect is good for fair results.

Charles S. Cook, who has been teaching in Lincoln county, has closed his school and returned to his home in this place.

Frank Sawyer, Esq., of the Custom House in Portland, and his wife are visiting their friends in this vicinity.

There will be a special meeting of Crooked River Lodge on Saturday evening, July 15th. Work in the third Degree.

Kezar Falls.

The last two weeks, ending July 10, has generally been cool especially nights and mornings. We have had some warm weather in the middle of the day, but not a day and night warm like most of seasons; still the frequent rains have brought vegetation forward rapidly. Crops will be good, although some fields have been injured by the joint work. Farmers deem it unwise to rush haying this week as much grass is green and still growing. The potato bug has been lax in operations this spring and summer, but now have gone at it with a will and Paris Green or London purple is all that will head them off.

The late rains have pushed Hobson's drive down towards Saco, and have a sight to reach that point.

The only celebration in this section was in the grove far back from the populous section, where many gathered to hear an oration from the Rev. H. E. Snow, of Cornish.

The factory company is buying much wool that is brought in from towns about us.

The Pillsbury brothers have moved their families from Boston into their new house, which is all finished up in good taste, where they will remain through the summer.

Biddeford Pool.

This famous summer resort is beginning to fill up with boarders from all parts of the country. Quite a number have already applied to the Yates House, which will accommodate about 175. This is one of the neatest and best houses on the New England coast. Other houses are filling up, and the prospect is that things will be lively here in a short time. One great attraction just now is a big whale captured off Provincetown and towed in here by a steam tug from Boston. I assure you it is quite an institution, weighing about fourteen tons and is about fifty feet long. John's fish are no where. Excursion trains and boat run from Old Orchard Beach a number of times a day to the Pool, giving tourists time to get dinner and view the place, see the whale and return again.

L. B. W.

West Paris.

The Trap Corner school at Paris, taught by Miss C. S. Clapp, and the West Paris school, taught by Miss Lizzy Hammond, united in a picnic on "Berry Leys" at the close of the term. It was a beautiful day, and everything passed off pleasantly. Journal.

Locke's Mills.

E. E. Rand & Co. have sold thirty-five tons of Bradley's fertilizer instead of seven and a half tons as stated in their paper of June 30th.

Rumford.

North Rumford celebrated the Fourth in Hodsdon's grove. President, Frank Hoyt; Orator, Rev. Mr. Jones. Poem by Miss Nancy Howe. Music by the children. Readings and declamations by the young men and ladies. Picnic dinner, absent run and tobacco.

Grass is very small, only about two-thirds grown. The rains we hope will bring it forth.

The rains ten days ago injured the apple crop.

Andover village is filling up now with visitors.

They are putting up the telegraph wire to Richardson Lake. Journal.

What Weeds Cost Us.

The utter waste of weeds is never more thoroughly exemplified than in a dry time. We often hear it said that one cannot afford to grow weeds; that they feed on the nutrition the plants ought to consume. But it is not merely a matter of food, it is one of drink also. During the very hot and dry spell last year, we noted a field of corn that had been somewhat neglected, and weeds were "ahead"—a rather rare thing in these parts—for our farmers, more perhaps than those of any other part, understand the importance of keeping weeds down. Only divided by a fence was another plot. The quality of the land was evidently the same in both instances; and the corn had both grown to about the same height. There seemed indeed but little difference in any respect except one had been carefully harrowed to keep down the weeds—not one was to be seen—while the other was very much neglected in that respect. But in the case of the latter, the hot weather had curled the leaves, and the plants had evidently received a great check to development, while the clean-kept was as green and vigorous in appearance as if it had had all the moisture it needed. And so it had. The land here had nothing to do but furnish moisture to the corn-plants, while in the other case it had to do for the weeds as well.

We never saw a better illustration of the injury of weeds. It is not only what they eat, but what they drink, that robs us of our due rewards; and then the loosening of the surface-soil in some measure aids the soil in retaining what moisture there may be there.

That is, providing the loosening-up be not too deep, for there may be extremes even in this good practice. If the surface is inclined to bake, the turning over of the surface only tends to expose fresh parts to evaporation, and there is a loss instead of gain in such cases.

ROSES.

Flower-cups, full of fragrance, toss and sway in each breeze. That rocks the high branches of the old forest trees. All nature smiles greeting to buds opened wide. That mantles with beauty every vale and hill side. They all seem perfected in every rich grace, And human to me, shines a light in each face. When a child, I would search in the new mown hay For poor little blossoms, that in withered leaves lay. The old fashioned poppies amid margoldine ferns. Were worth more to me, than a real gold mine. The odors of southernwood! how I prized the least sprig. In a small bouquet, and my Sabbath day rig. But the one that mother carried home for, than all. Grew under the apple tree, close by the wall. 'Twas a pure white rose bush, and through the June days, Its petals like snow flakes blew all sorts of ways. I see the old garden, the magnolia tree. The honeysuckle twining its blooms o'er my head. Honey bees rioting in aromatic thyme. Humming birds robing the sweet for a vine. O yes, 'tis the month of roses to me. That I think the fairest that ever could be. For, to me, the rose of all flowers' strong Is the rightful queen of this gay month of May.

Do not for its grace, perfected, complete. Do I these bay leaves" lay at its feet; 'Tis for the days all past and gone, Life's glad bright ones of youth and song. And, for all these memories, I love best to make

A garland of roses for "old times" sake. ZILHA.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED!

Just Published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S GEMINATED ESSAY on the Medical cure of Seminal Prostration, Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, privately.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured, without resort to a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. Address is believed that good will come of his visit to his old home and acquaintances.

We saw the boss hen's egg at John Fitz's last week. It weighed five ounces sharp. We would give the size of it, but fear by so doing our good name for truthfulness might suffer. For particulars inquire of Ed. G. Barnell.

H. R. Denison, who was summoned home to attend the funeral of his father the 25th of last month, returned to his former place of business, Monday.
Mr. Denison is clerking for the Warren
Boot and Shoe Co., on Congress street, Boston.

The Reformers meeting last Sabbath was well attended and addressed by Pres. Julian Brown, E. H. Brown, J. A.
Brown, John Devine, M. F. Kerwin, T. G. Stuart and others. The juveniles are expected to be present next Sunday and an interesting programme may be looked for.

At the Greenback caucus held at Concert Hall last Saturday the following were chosen delegates to the county convention: Dr. O. N. Bradbury, Frank Bradbury, James Smith, R. S.
Freeman, Lewis Lovejoy, C. B. Keith,
H. L. Pingree, Charles Freeman,
Albert Farnum, and L. D. Randall.

Last Wednesday, week ago, the Knights of Pythias occupied their new hall for the first time, since the fire. The hall is in the Hathaway block, the same as formerly. It is fitted up very nicely and must be convenient. It is claimed to be one of the prettiest halls in town. On the wall at the left as you enter are the pictures of the deceased members—three in number. The Pennesseewassee Lodge No. 18, K. of P. was instituted four years ago last Tuesday evening. It has eleven charter members. At present its membership is rising sixty.

The following list of Post Offices and Postmasters that the town of Norway has had was taken from an article in the Oxford Democrat, by Asa P.
Knight:

NORWAY.

William Reed, April 1, 1801; Geo.
J. Ordway, July 13, '41; Asa Thayer,
May 24, '45; Elliott Smith, April
3, '49; Charles P. Kimball, March 30,

Mrs. Ephraim F. Wood has been an invalid for a long time, and unable to walk for over a year. Her son, Winslow B. Wood, now at work in Boston, a few days since sent her an invalid chair, by which she can readily wheel herself about the house. It is a great convenience and comfort and highly appreciated by the invalid. Both she and the family who so kindly care for her, have the sympathy of the public in her great affliction.

Rev. A. Wiswall will hold services

Although the heat is oppressive these July days, we can manage to keep comfortably cool in and around our quarters. There is most always a delightful breeze on the Lake in hot weather.

The Prohibitory wave has swept over into Minnesota, and promises to exert an important influence in the choice of the next legislature. The temperance advocates want the privilege of voting on an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicants, and they threaten to vote against any candidate for the legislature who does not pledge himself to favor such an amendment. The anti-liquor sentiment is said to be very strong in that State.

Greenback Convention.

The Greenback Convention of Paris
Hill Tuesday made the following committees: For senator in eastern section, Mr. Chapman of Andover; for Clerk of Courts, C. F. Whitman of Norway; for County commissioner, H. G.
Walker of Lovell; Sheriff, Lewis Childs, Milton Plantation; Register of Deeds in the eastern section, Mr. Mc-Intire of Peru, and Geo. W. Hammond of Paris, Treasurer. The Senator and Register of Deeds for the western section, County Attorney and Commissioner in the eastern section were left blank for the Greenback County Committee to fill.

The English bombardier Alexandria
Tuesday. After ten hours the Egyptian forts were silenced.

Now that the Malley trial is over, and the boys that have been so long on trial for the murder of Jennie Cramer have been discharged for lack of evidence in her terrible and tragic death, we can hardly see wherein they are entitled to the honor shown them as they again take their places among their old associates and friends. No one who has read the trial will fail to see that their past association have been anything but healthy, in whose eyes ruined women were trophies to be boasted of and disgraced afeast whenever they can get an audience to listen to the tale of their evil exploits. We are told that young men and maidens (?) congratulate them, and that the employees of the father of one of the boys, waved their handkerchiefs and cheered as though these young men had done something to make the world better instead of incurring responsibility for a crime which a lifetime of repentance and good works can hardly expiate.

friend ever to be confided in, as a neighbor ever highly esteemed and loved. While in his native state, he was frequently elected to stations of honor and trust which he never betrayed. In a word, he was a devoted hus-

NEWS OF THE DAY

GENERAL ITEMS.

The Greenbackers and Independent of Alabama have nominated a State ticket, headed by J. L. Sheffield for Governor, and it has been adopted by the Republicans.

At Milwaukee, Wis., the striking iron workers and the employers have arrived at an amicable understanding, and the strikers will resume work on Monday next. It is reported at Pittsburgh, Pa., that additional iron manufacturers have signed the scale of wages demanded by the workmen.

Columbus, Kan., was visited by a tornado on Wednesday evening. Two men are reported to have been killed, and considerable property damaged.

The Arkansas Republicans have nominated W. D. Slack for Governor, and the Legislature of South Carolina adjourned after having redistricted the State in accordance with the new Congressional apportionment.

An Atlanta (Ga.) editor and his friend were arrested on board a railroad train, near Atlanta, on the supposition that they were about to leave the State for the purpose of engaging in a duel with another editor of Atlanta.

The total exportation of all kinds of goods from New York during the month of June amounted to 1,909,553 bales.

The meeting between Michael Davitt and the workmen at Union Square, New York, was imposing and full of enthusiasm. The labor unions, including those that are now on strike, arrived at the scene in procession, with their banners inscribed with significant mottoes. Mr. Davitt was welcomed in an appropriate address and with unmeasured applause. In his reply he alluded to Mr. Parnell's position in relation to the proposed nationalization of land and predicted that the latter would finally be found to hold the same views as himself.

At the burning of the Victoria paper mills at Oregon, Westchester Co., N. Y., three men lost their lives. Two of them are believed to have been sleeping off the effect of a spree, and it is thought that the fire was caused by carelessness on their part.

Governor Cornell, of New York, has vetoed the Civil Code bill and the Military Code bill.

The New York State prisons earned in June $5,711 in excess of their expenses.

The assessment roll of New York City for 1882 shows an increase of $80,000,000 in the value of real estate and a decrease of over $10,000,000 in the value of personal estate.

The statistics of the strike among the ironworkers at Pittsburg, Pa., remain unchanged, both manufacturers and men avowing their determination not to yield.

The steamer Soito, with a party of 500 excursionists on board, came in collision with the steamer John Brown on the Ohio River, about 8 o'clock, on the night of July 4th, near Mingo Junction, Ohio. The Soito sank within three minutes in fifteen feet of water. The tug was only slightly injured, and saved a great many of the passengers of the Soito, but the loss of life on the ill-fated boat is large, and will no doubt amount to fifty—many of them women and children.

The steamship Nevada landed at Castle Garden, New York City, on Monday, 927 Mormon immigrants, 100 of the number being children. They came from Europe in charge of thirty-four clergymen of the Mormon Church.

A wretched old man named Moses Grinnell, verging on the seventy, was sentenced at Newport, R. I., to imprisonment for life. He murdered a neighbor named Charles H. Thomas, who was recently believed to be living with his daughter.

The official canvass of the vote of Oregon gives the following majorities: For Congressman, Mr. George, 3,365; for Governor, Moody, 1,428; Supreme Judge, Lord, 1,401; Secretary of State, Burdett, 2,516; Treasurer, Hirsch, 2,632; Superintendent of Instruction, McElroy, 3,143, and for State Printer, Byers, 2,428.

The Pennsylvania strike continues with no prospect of cessation. Pittsburg business men are suffering inconvenience through the freight handlers' strike in New York City.

The published report of a massacre of colonists by Indians in Polk County, D. T., turns out to be a hoax, originating in a practical joke to scare young men who were in camp at the place where the massacre was supposed to have occurred.

Waterpockets in Colorado and in California have done much damage to property. Several lives were lost.

Billy Welch and Dave Phalen fought a prize fight at "The Plains," a suburb of Manchester, N. H., on Saturday. Forty-three rounds were fought, and the battle was decided in Phalen's favor on a foul by Welch. Both men were badly punished.

Kansas crop reports give a glowing picture of the harvest prospects, which are just beginning to be realized there.

A frightful explosion occurred at Dover, N. J., whereby 350 pounds of dynamite went off with astounding force and greatly damaged the town. One life was lost.

The village of Coalville, Dutcher Co., Pa., suffered from a terrible cyclone Friday evening. A number of buildings were demolished; four lives were lost and many persons were injured.

The full text of the newly adopted treaty between the Kingdom of Korea and the United States declares the independence of Korea as a sovereign power and establishes full diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Three riotous negroes were killed in a disturbance in the court-house in Brookville, Florida, and several others injured.

Mr. William R. Garrison, a son of Commodore Garrison, who was injured on the head in the disaster on the Long Branch Railroad on Thursday last, died July 1st at the house of Mr. John Hoey, Hollywood Park, Long Branch, to which he was conveyed immediately after the accident. This makes the fifth death by the disaster.

The American Bankers' Association is to meet at Saratoga, N. Y., on the 18th inst.

Cases of drowning occur in the water surrounding New York City every month of the year. During eleven years past 2,102 persons have met death in this way, 1,870 of whom were males and 232 females. The age at which the largest number of people have been drowned is between thirty-five and forty-five years.

On the Santa Cruz road in California a loaded coach was hurled over a precipice and four of the passengers killed.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The House passed the Naval Appropriation bill. In closing the debate a controversy arose between Mr. Robeson and Mr. Whitthorne, and personal invectives were indulged in on both sides.

The Senate postponed consideration of the Bankrupt bill until December next.

Crop advice received at the Agricultural Department are very encouraging.

Guitaen's body has been removed from the jail where it was buried to the Army Medical Museum.

Amendments by the Senate Committee have been made adding $2,000,000 to the River and Harbor bill.

The bill removing the export tax on tobacco was passed by the House.

The Senate passed the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill.

The autopsy of Guitaen shows no evidence of a diseased brain.

It is now thought that Congress will adjourn by the 17th inst., or a day or two after.

The Speaker laid before the House a message from the President returning without his approval the Denatur bill to regulate the carriage of passengers by sea. The bill asks too much of the steamship companies, says the message. A good bill of the same character correctly phrased would receive his prompt assent as a public necessity and blessing.

Custom House statistics show an increase in the value of dry goods imported during June over the same month last year. Last month there was an increase of about twenty-five per cent. in imports and exports over the amount reported for May.

Captain Howgate, the defaulting signal officer, announces, through a friend, that he is all right, that he has all the money he wants, and that he can't be found till he gets ready to come into court to be tried. He says he will be ready when wanted for trial.

France is urging Germany to use her influence with the Sultan for the deposition of Arabi from the Ministry of War in Egypt.

The Bombay papers announce that orders have been given to prepare a force of 1,500 English and 5,000 native troops for Egypt.

The London News estimates the cost of the expected war at four and a half million pounds.

Another scene has occurred in the English Parliament. A resolution was read from the Irish members denouncing the Government for their opposition and the passage of the Repression bill through committee in their absence they would not further participate in the debate. Nearly all the Irish members then left the House in a body.

A rebellion has broken out in Oman, Arabia, against the Imam. A British man-of-war has proceeded to Muscat.

On the Fourth all the ships in the harbor of Alexandria, dressed and fired salutes in honor of American Independence. The sight was brilliant in the extreme. Probably the American flag has never before been saluted by so many nationalities and by such a glorious display as that at Alexandria. The Arabs could not understand the saluting, believing that a bombardment had really begun.

Arabi Pasha has proposed a levy on the masses of the Egyptian population. The work upon the fortifications of Alexandria continues. Some of the forts are armed with heavy guns, which are directed upon the harbor.

A Town that Was.

There is something pathetic in the touch of destiny which rules the existence of all old country towns, and which causes the best work of an old man's life to go down into oblivion after the lapse of a few years. There was a grim sarcasm in the push and energy and life of an old region city in the height of its brief glory. Pithole, in Venango County, is a most striking illustration of this irony of fate. Twenty years ago the site of Pithole was covered with wheat fields, and to-day waving corn and wheat and wild flowers cover the same spot. But between that day and this there arose and fell one of the most remarkable cities the world has ever seen.

Twenty thousand people gathered there in a single year, and when the great oil wells failed to pour out a torrent of wealth the gaudy theatres closed, the mammoth hotels became tenements, and the churches lost their worshippers. Banks, newspapers, stores and offices ceased to exist almost as suddenly as they were called into being, and the life and light of the famous city went out forever. To-day there is one voter in Pithole, and the town may be said to be sold for Beaver for the lone voter is postmaster, justice of the peace, storekeeper and chief man of the place. It may also be said that there is but one other man in the neighborhood, but he does not vote.

There are dozens of villages in the old oil country that exist only in the memories of men who saw their birth and death. The new wells in Warren County are strangely like the wells in Pithole, and it is not hard to see the oil of Garfield being an almost fatal resemblance to the craze which was the guiding spirit of the wonderful city of Pithole. The ultimate result may not be the same, but it is not hard to see the oil of Garfield being an almost fatal resemblance to the craze which was the guiding spirit of the wonderful city of Pithole. Courtesy to Young Ladies.

Marion Harland, writing in the Congregationalist, says: "The liberality of youth leads as naturally to freedom of touch as brooks to rivers, or neglect of small sweet courtesies to overt boorishness. I do not exaggerate in asserting that the feminine portion of Young America, that affects notions, singing schools, straw rides, church societies and surprise parties needs as much to be ticketed 'Hands off!' as the valiant fingers of a man who is not my husband or kinsman is pressed upon my shoulder to point a story or attract attention; when a forward youth flings his arm with his folded glove at an evening party, that I say 'I may be and am offended, but in a quiet, manly way. When I see a thoughtless school girl sit at hand on a steamboat or car with a man whom I know to be a mere acquaintance or the opera cloak pressed long and closely about the neck, saying things, whom her escort wraps up protectively before leading her to her carriage; when girls are hauled and pushed and buffeted in romping games, and in dances and nothing better, as my husband might jostle one another, my blood boils with more indignant fire. No true man will needlessly, much less wantonly, put a woman on the defensive. The fact that a man can say of him who claps the lady's arm on the back as he helps her husband, or the coxcomb who, without her permission, dares to omit the 'Miss' in addressing his girl friend, is that he 'knows no better.' If they guessed how often the place is urged in extension of their bovine gambols by charitable friends with just ideas of the decencies and amenities of societies, the shock to self-conceit might be a wholesome lesson."

The Illinois (N. Y.) Tribune observes: Our druggists report that St. Jacobs Oil goes off like hot cakes.

RESPECTED.—There is a Chinaman in San Francisco with red hair. His countrymen treat him with superstitious respect. At the table he has the best of everything; and at all ceremonies he takes precedence.

What it did for an Old Lady.

CONCORD, N. H., N. Y., Dec. 28, 1878. GENTS.—A number of people had been using your Bitters here, and with marked effect. It has proved to be a most valuable medicine, and has been used for years, and for the past ten years has not been able to be around him the time. He is now a hale, hearty, and robust man, and his health is as good as ever. He is now a hale, hearty, and robust man, and his health is as good as ever.
